BIOGRAPHY

Anton Wick, originally from Perpignan, began his career in 2001 with RTS FM, the most influential independent radio station in the South of France. However, it was in 2008 that his life took a decisive turn when he met the famous DJ Laurent Wolf. It marked the beginning of a fruitful professional collaboration, punctuated by a series of hits and worldwide successes such as "Wash My World", "Seventies," "Walk the Line," and "Suzy."

The success of his debut single, "That's it", in 2011, Opened the way for many other singles and collaborations with renowned artists worldwide. Over the years, Anton has expanded his musical universe and invested in different styles, multiplying projects for radio, television, video games, and cinema, notably in reality TV shows on W9, collaborations with Luc Besson, and France television for Eurovision.

Currently, his 2023 remix of the title "Saxo" for Laurent Wolf is enjoying great success on the radio and has reached the top of the club charts. This remarkable career has been marked by numerous enriching encounters and the sharing of his passion with the public. Today, Anton Wick is also a trainer at UCPA, the Port-Barcarès DJ school, where he passes on his knowledge and experience to new talents.

Anton Wick's life and career reflect a rich and varied artistic journey marked by success, creativity, and a constant dedication to his art.
