

BADVICE DJ

Biography

Introducing the musical maverick hailing from the enchanting city of Venice, BadVice DJ - where his beats resonate as boldly as his gondola rides remain tranquil. This Venetian virtuoso has orchestrated musical magic alongside industry legends, such as the iconic Flo Rida; who he has collaborated twice with, in his songs, "Bam Bam" and "You Suck." He has also worked with the legendary Chris Willis in the unforgettable "Make it Last." BadVice DJ's creative escapades extend further - he's the mastermind behind official covers for hits like the Backstreet Boys "Larger than Life" and Tara McDonald's "I Need a Miracle," contributing his talents to a global project for Unicef.

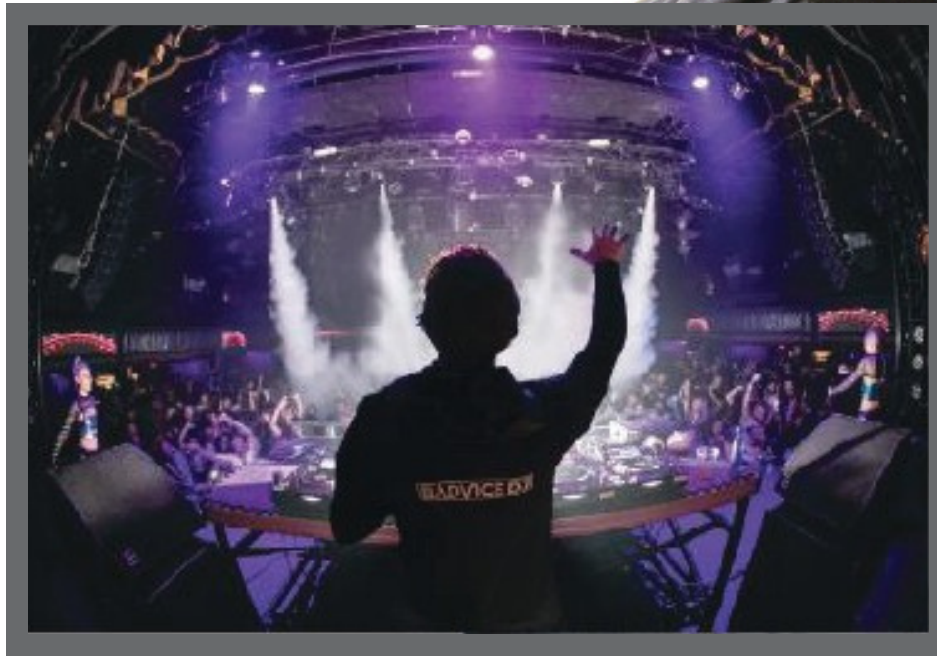

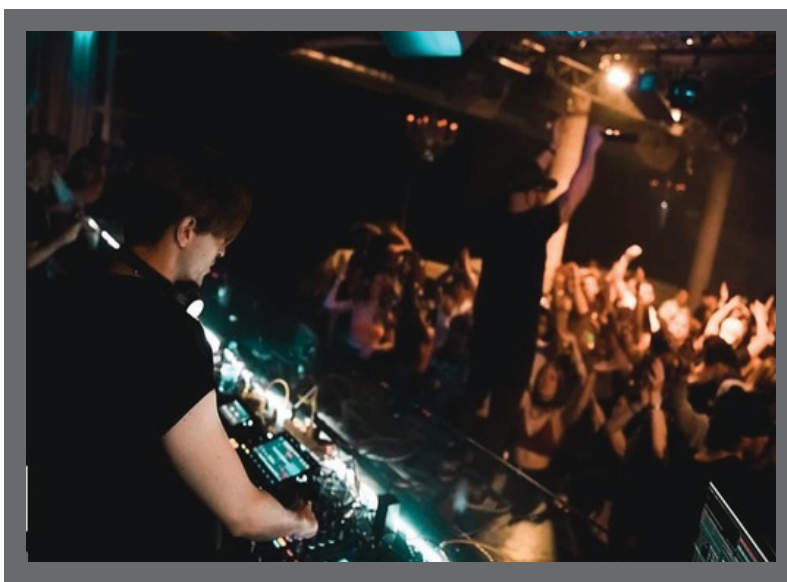

With a discography that knows no bounds, BadVice DJ has found his groove on esteemed labels like Sony Music, Warner Music and Sirup Music. His music is supported by David Guetta, Dimitri Vegas & Like Mike, Nicky Romero, Sam Feldt, Blasterjaxx, Benny Benassi and many others. Many of his songs have also charted in Beatports, Itunes and Amazon Music's top 100 charts.
